About AAF- Dayton:

As a local chapter, our mission is to energize and amplify the Dayton advertising community through education, networking, and recognition. To support our mission, we provide resources and develop programming for our members, including:

	Event	Average Attendance
	Monthly speaker series – A series of regional and national thought leaders presenting marketing/advertising insights and offering solutions to daily challenges faced by professionals.	60+ attendees
	Networking and social events – A variety of events that bring the local marketing and advertising community together to network in a social setting.	20+ attendees
	SummitUp – A full day marketing communications, public relations, and digital strategy conference dedicated to exploring the integration of creativity, communication, and technology.	200+ attendees
	Hermes – Conducted annually by the American Advertising Federation (AAF), the Hermes/American Advertising Awards is the first of a three-tier, national competition. The AAA's is the advertising industry's largest and most representative competition, attracting over 50,000 entries every year in local competitions, such as the Hermes.	375+ attendees
	Mercury Awards – Exclusive annual event celebrating and recognizing advertising vendors, media reps, suppliers, educators, and agency personnel.	175+ attendees

National Level: AAF – American Advertising Federation

The American Advertising Federation (AAF), the nation's oldest national advertising trade association, and the only association representing all facets of the advertising industry, is headquartered in Washington, D.C., and acts as the "Unifying Voice for Advertising." The AAF also has 15 district operations, each located in and representing a different region of the nation.
